

Audition Script in Teleprompter Format

VOG: "Ladies and Gentlemen, please
welcome your hosts..."

Host: Thank you!
Thank you! That was stunning. I knew we were talented
but...wow!

My co-host and I are very pleased to have been chosen to represent you here tonight. We were just hanging out, minding our own business and then this email popped up...a call for auditions. They were looking for hosts for THIS event. And BAM! Here we are. (ad lib comments)

Host: And a big ‘thank-you’ to all our regions out there. Let me just say how much we appreciate your support, (and I am one of you). I know what it takes to keep the goals of SHPE alive in each of our regions, all across the country.

In addition to the great support of our region leaders is the support we get from our sponsor partners.

Right now I'd like to pause and say 'Thank you' to our visionary sponsor. They are a great support and we are excited to be here in their hometown of Kansas City.

They sent us a video
that I'd like to show you right now. Check this out...

Host: Thank you all for being here. We have some great things planned over the next few days.

There will be special guests, plenty of networking and some great entertainment.
We look forward to reconnecting with old friends and making
some new ones.

Goodnight!
